G Fresh Gallery, 400 W. Walnut, presents Featured Artist Mike Maloney in December. Mike is a bronze and pewter artist. He was born in Austin, TX, to parents who loved art and encouraged his own path. He started out doing woodcarving with his father. Years later, he began using wax and clay to form models that aided in his carving. The softer medium allowed for more refined pieces that would later be cast in metal. Maloney developed a casting and finishing process involving pewter that ensured the originality and quality control of his work from start to finish. His western and wildlife sculptures range from miniature to larger-than-life size. "Reflections of Texas" has been chosen as an official commemorative sculpture for the Texas Sesquicentennial and is currently housed in the Texas State Archives. Do not miss an opportunity to see these magnificent works in person. www.freshgallery.org (417) 862-9300 Open 11 a.m.-6 p.m. T-Sat, 11 a.m.-10 p.m. during Art Walk

J Obelisk Home at the Inspired Commerce Building, 214 W. Phelps, presents Roots: The Art of Christie Snelson in December. "My passion for painting is rooted in color. In each of these works, color is being analyzed. Studied. Creating a madness within. I am interested in color in regards to light; how certain colors can be placed next to each other to create an illusion of illumination. I am interested in how lines of color can create form and mix optically. How colors can create composition and the effect of refracted light and reflective color. These works embody what I love about painting." – Christie Snelson (417) 616-6488 www.obeliskhome.com
