2 Arts & Letters, 214 S. Campbell, presents March Featured Artist Kat Wilson, who will show pieces from two different bodies of work: Layers and Habitats, plus enjoy a Live Musical Performance by John Krygiel. Artist Kat Wilson on Layers: Layers bring complexity to natural spaces, drawing forth a human element with the desire for a sound bite in time. I gather images from varying degrees, often pulling information in a complete 360°. I then layer one on top of the other in an effort to tell a broader story of the scene while staying true to a painterly quintessence. Artist Kat Wilson on Habitats: The Habitats series of digital photographs explores the lives and personalities of the subjects through elaborate orchestrations of the possessions and spaces that constitute their everyday environment. Employing centuries-old compositional devices, these theatrically conceived portraits transcend the quotidian familiarity of the personal belongings and spaces they depict, casting the subjects as both intimately vulnerable, and heroic.
